This Committee shall be responsible for the entire process of Internal Assessment in the Department, including redressal of grievances if any.

3) Guideline for the Review Committee:

Review may be conducted after each test or after the tests in case there is a large number of fail grades or higher letter grades, or when large numbers of students who have received the same grade or clustering of students on letter grades, or when there are discrepancies between marks allocated to individual students in different courses,

- a) Split-up of marks used for each of the different types of assessment in the course to be checked
- b) Checking of the questions whether it maps with course outcomes.
- c) Checking of the level of difficulty of questions paper i.e. is difficulty level on the extremes, very easy or otherwise.
- d) Whether the assessment modes are used to cover the entire syllabus or not.
- e) Checking the manner of awarding the marks, i.e. has correction been at the extremes, liberal or tough?

- f) Moderation should not be restricted to just assessment but also includes the assessment design (scheme of evaluation).
- g) Each college has to submit the moderation committee report to Registrar(Evaluation) along with the CIE marks.

220B4.8. Rejection of Result

- 1) A student may, at his/her desire, can reject the total performance of a semester (including CIE marks) or reject only the result of his/her performance in university examinations(SEE) of a semester. The rejection is permitted only once during the entire Program of study.

They shall also be governed by readmission and Maximum duration clauses.
 - a) If the rejection of SEE results excluding CIE marks is of the odd semester, students shall be allowed to take admission to the immediate next even semester.
 - b) If the rejection of SEE results excluding CIE marks is of an even semester, then students shall be allowed to take admission to the next odd semester.
 - c) Readmission to odd/even semesters shall not be considered as fresh admission and therefore students shall continue to have the same University Seat Number, which was allotted earlier. The maximum duration of the Program shall be counted with reference to the University Seat Number (USN).
 - d) Applications for rejection of results excluding CIE and approval to reappear for University examinations shall be sent to the Registrar (Evaluation) through the Principal of the College within 30 days from the date of announcement of the results, with prescribed fee as notified by the university from time to time. Late submission of applications shall not be accepted for any reason.
 - e) Application for rejection of results including CIE and approval for readmission shall be sent to the Registrar through the Principal of the College within 30 days from the date of the announcement of the results with prescribed fee as notified by the university from time to time. Late submission of application shall not be accepted for any reason.

- 4) Registration for SEE is compulsory if the student/s has satisfied the attendance and CIE requirement of ODD /EVEN semester.

In case, the students fail to register for SEE of the odd semester after satisfying the attendance and CIE requirements of the semester, they shall be permitted to move to an even semester of that academic year.

However, such students have to register for odd semester examinations conducted at the end of the academic year for all the semesters and registration shall be considered for the first attempt.

In case, students fail to register for the odd semester SEE after completing successfully the even semester, they shall not be permitted to move to the higher odd semester of the subsequent academic year. Irrespective of a student appearing for SEE, he/she has to register for SEE for odd and even semesters before completing the academic year.

certificate and a B.Sc. degree. However, they shall earn the required credits for the award of the degree within the maximum specified duration.

The following distinctions are awarded under MEME options:

1) Certificate in Respective Programmes of Engineering

A student who exit at the end of II year of the programme shall be awarded a certificate, if he/she successfully passes the registered courses and earns:

- (i) Atleast 50% of the credit requirements of B.E./B.Tech. programme. (i.e. 80 credits)
However, it is 25% for lateral admission candidates (i.e. 40 credits).
- (ii) Atleast 50% of the programme professional core courses (some specific courses may be specified, so the leaving student has decent skills), and
- (iii) A minimum CGPA of 5.0.

2) B.Sc. in Respective Programmes of Engineering

A student who exit the end of III year of the programme shall be awarded a B.Sc. degree, if he/she successfully passes the registered courses and earns:

- (iii) A minimum CGPA of 5.0.

With B.Sc., the student is eligible for entry into programmes which take B.Sc. as eligibility criteria.

3) Re-entry to complete the programme

A student exiting with a certificate or B.Sc. should be entitled to re-enrol in the programme. All the credits will be transferred, if the student enrolls back within a limited period of 3 years of exiting. In case a student enrolls after that, then the transfer of credits should be examined by looking at the change in the curriculum from what the student did. Exits are permitted by the University within 15 days of announcement of II year and III year University results, on written request for the award of certificate and B.Sc. degree by a student when he/she is eligible. Corresponding to these two exits, a maximum of two re-entries are permitted with the condition that he/she complete the programme within the maximum specified duration.

4) Completion Possibility in other Institutions.

The University permits a student to earn a certificate/B.Sc. in one institution and complete the degree programme in another. This will enhance the value of certificates and B.Sc

22OB5.2. Minimum and Maximum Duration for Programme Completion

Students admitted to first-semester B.E./B.Tech., shall complete the program within eight academic years from the year of the first admission, failing which they will not be eligible for the award of a degree. 220B6.0. GRADING AND VERTICAL PROGRESSION

220B6.1. Award of Grades:

- 1) The University adopts absolute grading system wherein the marks are converted to grades, and every semester result will be declared with semester grade point average (SGPA) on successful completion of all courses of that semester.

Letter Grade and corresponding Grade Points on a typical 10 – Point scale
Letter Grade	O	A+	A	B+	B	C	P	F
Grade Point	10	9	8	7	6	5	4	0

% of Marks Secured	90-100	80-89	70-79	60-69	55-59	50-54	40-49	0-39
--------------------	--------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	------

- 2) The total marks obtained by the student in CIE and SEE of a course is expressed as a percentage to compute the grade points and the letter grade is awarded as indicated in the table below:
- 3) If there is no SEE for a course, then the CIE marks alone will be the basis for the determination of letter grade.

22OB6.2. Other Letter Grades:

The letter grades specified in 22OB 6.1 are used as student performance measures in all kinds of assessments. However, the following letter grades are also awarded under the circumstances defined below (Letter Grade: Grade Point - Circumstances).

- 1) NE: 0 - Credits are not included in CGPA, Attendance below 75%, hence Repeat the course (In case of electives, course change is permitted)
- 2) AU: 0 - Satisfactory in an Audit course
- 3) AB: Absent for the Course
- 4) PP: 0 – Passed in Non-credit course
- 5) NP: 0 - Not Passed in Non-credit course
- 6) IC: No credits - Incomplete (a place holder; gets converted to an appropriate grade after clearing SEE examination else converted to “F”) else automatically converted to “F”.
- 7) W: No credits – Dropped/ withdrawn (W is not a grade but only a place holder indicating that the course has been dropped/withdrawn and it must be cleared in subsequent semesters).
- 8) DX: Attendance below 75%

22OB 6.3. Passing Standards

1) Maximum and Minimum CIE Marks:

The maximum weightage of CIE mark shall be 50. To appear for the SEE, the minimum CIE marks to be secured in each of the courses shall be 40 % of the maximum marks of CIE.

2) Maximum and Minimum SEE Marks:

The maximum weightage of SEE marks shall be 50 and marks to be secured for passing shall be 35 % of the maximum marks of SEE.

3) Eligibility for Passing a Course:

The overall passing marks shall be 40% of the maximum marks (the sum of the CIE and SEE should be 40% of the maximum marks) of the course. That is, Minimum passing grade in a course (head of passing) shall be "E".

4) Semester Passing Standards:

- a) A student shall be declared successful or 'passed' in the entire Undergraduate Programme, only when he secures a Grade Point of 4 ("E" Grade) or above in every registered Course in each Semester during the entire programme for the Degree Award, as required.
- b) A Student shall be declared successful or 'passed' in any Non-Credit Course if he secures a 'Satisfactory Grade (PP)' for that Mandatory Course.

220B 6.4. Vertical Progression

- 1) All the below clauses are subject to a maximum duration of eight years (six years for Lateral Entry Students) of the programme.
- 2) A theory, standalone practical or Theory with practical shall be treated as a head of passing.
- 3) The Non-credit Mandatory courses (NMCs) shall not be considered for the eligibility criterion prescribed for promotion, award of Class, calculation of SGPA and CGPA. However, a pass in these courses is mandatory before the completion of Degree.
- 4) There shall be no restriction for promotion to 2nd semester from 1st semester.
- 5) Third semester onwards, a student is permitted to register for higher semester/level courses
- 6) In the case of students admitted to the first semester (First year):
 - a) Students shall fulfill the attendance and CIE requirements to appear for SEE of 1st year courses.
 - b) Students having F grades for the courses totaling to more than 16 credits (credits for theory and practical are to be treated separately for vertical progression) in the 1st and 2nd semesters of the first year of the programme shall not be eligible to move to the 3rd semester (Second year) of the programme. These courses include courses marked as NE.

- c) The students who fail to satisfy CIE and attendance requirements shall repeat the courses whenever offered next and become eligible for the 2nd year.
- d) Obtaining CIE: From the 3rd semester (Second year) onwards the student who obtains the required attendance for the course, but not the required CIE marks is allowed to move forward to the next semester. However, the student shall obtain the required CIE by registering to the course in the subsequent semester. Obtaining minimum CIE marks in a course registered is mandatory. It may also be noted that the student shall not be permitted to appear for SEE in such courses until he/she obtains the required CIE.
- e) Carryover of backlog courses: From 3rd semester onwards the students who obtain the required attendance & CIE in a course and appears for University examinations but fails (F Grade) is allowed to register for the next semester (odd /even) irrespective of a number of F grades. However, for the award of degree, the student has to pass in all courses as per applicable Scheme & Regulations and earn the prescribed number of credits within the permitted maximum duration of the Programme. It mandatory for a student to pass all the courses of 1st and 2nd semesters as per the Scheme of Teaching and Evaluation to Register for the 7th semester (IV year).
- f) From the second year onwards there shall be no restriction for promotion from an even to next odd semester (or odd to next even semester) even if the student has not satisfied the attendance requirement in one or more courses (including bridge courses for lateral entry students) shall not be eligible to appear for the Semester End Examination (SEE) of that course(s). The student shall be required to repeat that course whenever offered next.
- g) Permitted Maximum credits for Registration:

The student shall be permitted to register for total courses not exceeding 30 credits. These 30 credits include the courses of the regular semester and backlogs. The registration of these additional credits includes the courses having a shortage of attendance and the courses whose CIE requirements are not fulfilled. A student has to pay the prescribed fee as notified by the University from time to time.

h) Successive Failures and alternate course selection:

- (i) If a student fails in a course other than the professional core course even after four attempts, he may drop that course but shall choose an alternate course of his/her choice with the same number of credits from the pool of courses suggested by the concerned Board of Studies.
- (ii) The course so selected should not have been studied by the student or to be studied in future at higher semesters. The faculty advisor shall guide/advise the student in this regard.
- (iii) The college shall make arrangements for the registration and conduction of CIE for the alternate course selected.
- (iv) This provision is given only for two courses (one at a time) during the entire maximum duration of the programme.
- (v) This provision is optional; the student/s can continue registering for the same course without opting for a change of course.

220B6.5. Condition for Re-Registering a Course:

- 1) Students who do not pass the course as per Secion 220B 6.3(3) and awarded "F" Grade may Re-Register and improve their performance.
- 2) Such student, after passing the failed course in subsequent examination/s, will be awarded letter grade based on the marks he scores in the subsequent examination/s.

220B6.6. Computation of SGPA and CGPA:

- 1) Semester Grade Point Average (SGPA) will be awarded at the end of each Semester and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) will be awarded at the end of the program. However, CGPA is calculated at the end of each semester from the second semester onwards and reflected in the grade card for indicating the progress of the student.
- 2) Each course in a program is associated with number of credits (C). Based on the number of Credits for a course and obtained Grade Point (GP) for that course in a Semester, the GPA is calculated as given below:
 - a) The SGPA is the ratio of sum of the product of the number of credits with the grade points secured by a student in all the courses taken by him and the sum of the number of credits of all the courses undergone by a student, i.e.,

$$SGPA = \sum (C_i \times G_i) / \sum C_i$$

Where C_i is the number of credits of the i th course and G_i is the grade point scored by the student in the i th course.

- b) The CGPA is also calculated in the same manner considering all the courses undergone by a student over all the semesters of a programme, i.e.,

$$CGPA = \sum (C_i \times S_i) / \sum C_i$$

Where S_i is the SGPA of the i th semester and C_i is the total number of credits in that semester.

Finally, the SGPA and CGPA shall be rounded off to 2 decimal points and reported in the grade cards. An illustrative example to calculate SGPA and CGPA for one academic year is shown in Annexure-I.

22OB6.7. Conversions of CGPA into Percentage of marks and Class Equivalence

There is no formula for the conversion of CGPA into the percentage of marks.

However, the following formula for conversion of the CGPA on a 10-point scale into the percentage of marks (M) for employment / higher studies, etc may be used;

Percentage of marks secured, $M = CGPA \text{ Earned} \times 10$

Illustration for a CGPA of 8.20;

Percentage of marks secured $M = 8.20 \times 10 = 82.0 \%$

22OB6.8. Class Equivalence

Subsequent to the conversion of final CGPA, after successful completion of the Program, into the percentage of marks (M), a graduating student is reckoned to have passed in

- (i). First Class with Distinction (FCD) if $M \geq 70$
- (ii). First Class (FC) if $60 \leq M < 70$
- (iii). Second Class (SC) if $50 \leq M < 60$
- (iv). Pass Class (P) if $40 \leq M \leq 50$

Guidelines for Using Online Content in Courses at the University and Colleges.

1.0. Background

A lot of online high-quality content is available today either free or at a low cost. Besides the Government supported NPTEL, there are companies who aggregate courses from several Universities (and even private commercial organizations) and offer them to students all over the world. There are other companies who offer courses designed and developed by them. Further, a lot of companies have online content available to students.

On the other hand, most of the Computer Science (and related) departments face serious shortage of faculty, particularly in areas where there is a significant demand in the industry.

So, on one hand, we have quality content available for free or low cost, and on the other hand, we don't have faculty to teach such courses. The natural solution is to find ways to use online content for the courses in the curriculum (with credits). This way, either a knowledgeable faculty can “teach” a much larger class, or a faculty member with inadequate background in the topic can still “teach” the course better than what he/she would have done without the support of such online content.

1.1. Issues

The online content has been around for several years. The regulatory bodies have also been encouraging use of such content (particularly, NPTEL). And yet, the online content has not been integrated with the curriculum in most colleges. The pandemic has allowed people to take a fresh look at online content and the mental barriers to using such content in the curriculum have been breached. At this time, it is felt that a lot of colleges would want to use this content. However, there are two primary academic issues that need to be addressed (besides logistics, financial, and HR issues). These are:

1. How do we decide what material to use? This has two sub-issues. One, what content would be equivalent to the content that is mentioned in our curriculum (course mapping). Note this is a challenge because there may not be a single module which covers all parts of the curriculum. So we may need to select more than one module. Two, given the plethora of content, which content is of reasonable quality.
2. How would a college do evaluation of students in order to assign marks/grades?

1.2. Modes of Learning

There are several ways of using the online content in the curriculum.

The simplest mode (Mode 1) is to use online content as additional reference material. In this mode, the normal teaching is anyway being done and the faculty is referring to online content in the same way he/she would refer to a book. This mode requires no change or suggestions and hence is outside the scope of this document.

The next mode (Mode 2) is the flipped classroom model where the students go through the online content (including writing programs, small quizzes, etc.), and the local faculty takes discussion sessions and does all the evaluation. This mode still requires a knowledgeable faculty member to be the course Teacher. However, given that we can now reduce the contact hours for the students and faculty, the same faculty can handle a much larger class (or multiple sections in case there is an upper limit on the size of the class).

The next mode (Mode 3) is that the students are studying only through the online mode and there is very little interaction with the faculty at the college. May be there can be some sessions once in a while, but mostly, the role of a local faculty is only to handle evaluation (exams, assignments, projects, etc.). This partially addresses the issue of lack of faculty in certain areas since the expertise required for handling evaluation is arguably lesser than the expertise required to teach the course.

The last mode (Mode 4) is where the online provider does everything, including evaluations. We don't need any faculty member at the college to offer this course. We only need to decide how to translate the evaluation done by an outsider to an equivalent grade/ mark on the college transcript.

The table below illustrate the four models in brief.

S. No.	Model	Local Part	Online Part	Guidelines
1	Reference Mode	All lectures, home works, evaluations	Additional Reference material	No additional recommendations. This requires no additional details.
2	Flipped Mode	Discussion sessions, evaluations	Lectures, Home works, Quizzes, Project options	Requires local faculty with some knowledge in the subject area. Large sections/class sizes can be handled
3	Screen Mode	Evaluations	All lectures, Home works, Projects	Place reasonable limit on the number of credits that can be earned in this mode. Use in cases where there is faculty shortage in critical areas

4	Fully online	--	All lectures, evaluations, Projects, Tests	Place reasonable limit on the number of credits that can be earned in this mode. Advised not to repeat this model for the same course more than two times. Local faculty also to register and go through the course. Official score/grade to be suitably added to the student transcript.

1.3. Course Mapping

Each course in the curriculum has course outcomes and the content defined by the University. Typically, we may have some course outcomes which are important ones, and may be some outcome which is desirable or optional. Similarly, the curriculum may also define the rough duration of each topic. Sometimes the curriculum will also include the kind of projects or assignments that the student shall be asked to do in the course.

The key to course mapping is to realize that any two individuals defining a course will have some differences and we must be flexible to accept differences to some extent. The committee trying to do course mapping should have an understanding of what are the important components (in all three: outcomes, topics, and projects) and should ensure that the online content meets all the important requirements. But looking for identical course would be usually futile.

Also, what is noticed is that typical online courses are often available in smaller modules than a typical 4- credit course in our curriculum. And therefore, one may need to consider more than one online courses together to be equivalent to one course in the college. It may also be noted that just like some small aspects of the course may not be present in the modules chosen, there may be some aspects of the online modules which were not part of the college course. This amount of flexibility should be acceptable to the college. Typically, if the online content covers 80% of the college course, it may be accepted.

While autonomous colleges and Universities do have this flexibility, the affiliated colleges may not have the flexibility of not teaching even 20% of the content. In case of affiliated colleges, one will have to either be stricter in course mapping, or find a way to cover the gaps through a local faculty or a visiting faculty. It is assumed that it is easier to find a visiting faculty for a small part of the course and hence it is still a useful mode.

It may also be noted here that for Core courses, the overlap needs to be significantly higher while for the elective courses, the overlap could be relaxed somewhat. It is because the core courses typically are pre-requisites for other courses. Also, core courses have been defined to be such because it is assumed that that content is more important for the graduates than what is taught in electives.

However, course mapping is still not an easy thing to do. It requires an understanding of important versus less important components, and quality of content among the plethora of options available. It may require someone to go through the content patiently.

And hence it is recommended that for courses recommended in the curriculum, a course mapping may be suggested for the benefit of colleges by the University.

1.4. Evaluation

In Modes 1, 2, and 3, the complete evaluation is local, and hence there is no issue. In Mode 4, we need to consider an external evaluation and use that internally. This is a challenge. There is a difference in how to handle this in a University versus an affiliating college. In a University, a simple way of handling this would be to assign a Pass/Fail grade to the student. In case of an affiliating college, where only the internal marks need to be forwarded to the University, one could consider the external evaluation since it impacts only 30% of the marks, and the University will anyway have its own exam of 70% marks.

There are other models like normalizing the external evaluation to the college's internal policy or average distribution of marks in other courses.

It is assumed that in Mode 4, there is a formal way of communicating performance of the student by the provider of the online courses since colleges and Universities will not accept screen shots, emails, etc.

1.5. Other Issues

- a) Financial: If there is a fee to be paid for online content, the college should have a policy on that. Typically, if the savings due to reduced faculty requirements are significant, then the fees for the online provider may be reimbursed by the college.
- b) Teaching Load: Faculty member supporting the course whether by taking a few discussion sessions (in Mode 2) or by evaluating the students (in Mode 3) is still putting in substantial effort in managing the course, and an appropriate credit should be given to the faculty member when his/her teaching load is computed.
- c) Training the teacher: When a course is being done in Mode 3, the local faculty member should also be expected to register for the course and go through the course (with load being appropriately counted). After a faculty member has gone through the course in two academic sessions, he/she would be well prepared to teach the course in the class in a much better way. Even if the course is being offered in Mode 4, there is no harm in asking a faculty member to register for the course and go through it. Some responsible person in the college would know the level of the course and what exactly students have done, and again, after two such sessions, the faculty member would be well prepared to teach the course. Hence this mode will also lead to better training of the teachers.

- d) Limits on Credits: The University recommends that there should be a limit on the number of credits students can earn through online courses. In case of Mode 4, where even the evaluation is done by the online course provider, the proposed limit is 8 credits only. As the technology for online exams or the processes for evaluation by online providers improve over a period of time, this limit may be increased. In case of Mode 3 where the content is delivered online but evaluation is local, the limit can be high. For Mode 3 and Mode 4 combined, the limit can be what the regulatory bodies like UGC have announced for online courses, which is currently 40% of the total credits. In Modes 1 and 2 where the online content is really the reference material, there is no need for any limit.

Another constraint the committee would want the colleges to consider is that in a sequence of courses in one stream of Computer Science, at least one course should be in class. For example, if we consider the sequence of systems courses – Operating Systems, Databases, Networks, Architecture, at least one course should be in class. This is to ensure that if there were some gaps in online courses, the faculty in the face to face class can try to cover that to some extent.

- e) Faculty Incentive: There is a need to provide some incentive to faculty members who would manage the course that is being taught in the online mode. If a course is being taught in Mode 2, the load on the faculty is only marginally less than the load of teaching an in person course. So the full teaching load should be considered for the faculty. In Mode 3, the load is much less, and in Mode 4, the load is only that we are asking the faculty to also go through the course along with the students. In these two modes, the college may consider this as reduced load. However, their learning the course may be treated as equivalent to having done a Faculty Development Program when it comes to their appraisal and promotions.
- f) Consideration in NBA Accreditation: One of the prime reason why online courses haven't become popular with colleges is that they must recruit faculty with a certain faculty to student ratio for accreditation and ranking. And once they have recruited faculty, one would always want the faculty to teach and not keep them under-loaded. If one can consider online courses as equivalent to faculty strength while deciding faculty-to-student ratio, then colleges would be attracted to online courses. A typical faculty member teaches about 100 students in a semester (across 2-3 courses). If 100 students do a course in Mode 4, we may consider this as equivalent to having one additional full time equivalent (FTE) faculty member on the rolls of the college for that semester. Similarly, if 200 students do a course in Mode 3, we may consider this as equivalent to having one additional FTE faculty member for that semester.

g) Online offering of AICTE Model Curriculum Courses by Experts

It is known that a significant number of colleges do not have adequately qualified faculty to teach the courses in the model curriculum properly. This proposal tries to alleviate this challenge by utilizing our newly acquired comfort level with online education. Essentially, the suggestion is that AICTE incentivizes top faculty to offer the AICTE model courses online, and publishes a calendar of such courses well in advance, so colleges/HEIs can use them for teaching the AICTE curriculum.

The following would be the salient features of the proposed scheme.

1. All the identified core courses and later on some key electives of the AICTE curriculum may offered regularly (maybe every semester) with a predefined calendar enabling colleges to plan using them for their students.
2. For each course AICTE identifies through a process a set of “Distinguished National Technical Teachers” who are subject experts and who also have experience teaching the course at the undergraduate level.
3. These “Distinguished Teachers” are offered financial reward for offering one course online once every 2 to 3 years. The reward must be substantial to make it prestigious as well as attractive. Suitable funding is also made available to the instructor for engaging TAs for help sessions as well as laboratory exercises.
4. AICTE can also recognize industry professionals in the panel of distinguished faculty as they can make these courses more interesting and industry oriented. They could teach jointly with academics appointed as Distinguished Teachers and handle certain components of the course. The Distinguished Teachers will be encouraged to actively invite guest faculty from industry and/or professional associations (e.g. ACM) to give lectures in these courses to make them more interesting and industry oriented.

5. There is a registration procedure for colleges (not individual students) to register for making this course available to their students. They should also commit to assigning an instructor for coordinating classes including infrastructure, conducting assessments, help in grading etc.
6. Colleges may be asked to pay a reasonable amount as registration charges so that the scheme is self-sustaining.
7. This will be an AICTE scheme for teaching its model curriculum courses by experts. It can be managed by AICTE directly, or it can offer it to other institutions/consortium to manage them. Any platform (e.g. NPTEL) can be used to deliver these courses.

This approach differs from the currently available online courses from NPTEL and other platforms substantially.

1. Syllabus for each course is the approved AICTE syllabus.
2. The courses would be available against a set calendar each semester making it possible for colleges to rely on them.
3. It empowers the college rather than individual students to make use of the online course in a “mixed” mode and thus addresses the deficiency of expertise in specific areas in that college.
4. With suitable incentive (both prestige and financial) top experts may be motivated to offer these courses.

Definitions of Keywords

The following are the definitions/descriptions that have been followed for the different terms used in the Regulations of B.E./B.Tech. Programs:

1. Program: This is an educational program in a particular stream/ branch of Engineering/branch of specialization leading to the award of the Degree. It involves events/activities, comprising of lectures/tutorials/laboratory work/fieldwork/outreach activities/project work/vocational training/viva-voce/ seminars/ internship/assignments/ presentations/ self-study, etc., or a combination of some of these.
2. Semester: Refers to one of the two sessions of an academic year (vide: serial number 4), each session being of sixteen weeks' duration (with not less than 90 working days). The odd and even semesters shall be as per the University academic calendar.
3. Academic Year: Refers to two consecutive semesters (odd followed by an even) sessions, including intervening periods.
4. Course: Usually referred to as subject and is a component of a Program. All Courses may not carry the same weightage. Each Course will have course objectives and course outcomes. A Course may be designed to comprise lectures/ tutorials/ laboratory work/ fieldwork/ outreach activities/project work/ vocational training/ viva-voce/ seminars/ term papers/assignments/ presentations/ self-study components etc., or a combination of some of these.
5. Credit: Refers to a unit or weightage by which the Coursework is measured. It represents the number of hours of instructions prescribed per week. One credit is equivalent to one hour of lecture or two hours of laboratory/practical Courses/ tutorials/ fieldwork etc., per week.
6. Choice Based Credit System (CBCS): The education model refers to customizing the Coursework, through Core, Professional Elective, Open Electives, Skill-based ability Enhancement Courses, Non-Credit Mandatory Courses, and Internships to provide the necessary support for the students to achieve their goals.
7. Course Registration: Refers to formal registration to Courses of study in every semester by every student under the supervision of a Faculty Advisor (also called Mentor, Counsellor, Class teacher, etc.), in the Institution to maintain the proper record. Registration to the University portal is mandatory.

- 8. Course Evaluation: Represents the measurement of the impact of the teaching-learning process and offers an opportunity for improving the quality of learning in courses and teaching performance. Courses evaluation is done by adopting different methods such as tests, quizzes, assignments, etc., during the teaching-learning period at the end of some modules or chapters of syllabus contents and at the end of the semester. While the former part of the evaluation is called the Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) and the latter part of the evaluation is called Semester End Evaluation (SEE).
- 9. Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)(also known as formative assessment): Refers to the evaluation of students' performance in the course during the teaching-learning process. CIE shall be done by the faculty teaching course and evaluation components may include tests, assignments, group discussion, quizzes, course-specific projects, seminars, etc., conducted during the semester tenure with a weightage for different activities as specified by the University.
- 10. Semester End Examinations Evaluation (SEE)(also called summative assessment): Refers to the examinations conducted by the University covering the entire Course Syllabus. For this purpose, Syllabi shall be modularized, and SEE questions shall be set from each module as specified by the University.
- 11. First Attempt: Refers to some students who have studied in a current semester and have attended any one of the University examinations of that semester after satisfying attendance and CIE requirements of all the prescribed courses of that semester and registering for SEE. Such an attempt shall be considered as the first attempt. Even if students absent themselves for all the semester examinations after registering for SEE, such an attempt shall also be considered the first attempt.
- 12. Credit Representation: Refers to the Credit Values for different academic activities considered, as per Table-1. Credits for the seminar, project phases, project viva-voce and internship shall be as specified in the Scheme of Teaching and Examinations.

NOTE: Activities like practical training, study tour, and participation in Guest Lecturers do not carry Credits.

13. Non-Credit Mandatory Course [NCMC]: In the case of non-credit mandatory courses, students shall attend the classes during the respective semesters to satisfy the attendance requirements and as well as CIE requirements. In case, any student fails to register for the said course/fails to secure the minimum 40% of the prescribed CIE marks, he/she shall be deemed to have not satisfied. In such a case, the student has to fulfill the requirements during subsequent semester/s to appear for CIE. These Courses shall not be considered for CGPA calculation and vertical progression, but completion of the courses shall be mandatory for the award of degree.

14. Letter Grade: Course Letter Grade (or simply letter grade or grade) is an index of performance of a student in a said course and refers to a qualitative measure of achievement of a student in each course, based on the percentage range of marks secured in CIE and SEE put together or CIE alone. Grades are denoted by letters O, A, B, C, D, E, and F. The rubrics attached to letter grades are as follows:

O – Outstanding, A+ – Excellent, A – Very Good, B+ – Good, B – Above Average, C – Average,

Regulations Governing the Degree of Bachelor of Engineering/Technology (B.E./B.Tech.)
Under Outcome Based Education (OBE) and Choice Based Credit System (CBCS)

P- Pass and F – Fail. If a student remains absent for SEE of any of the course/s, the letter grade assigned to that course shall be F. If a student is not eligible for appearing SEE due to non-comply of any of the course/s then the letter grade assigned against that course shall be NE.

15. Grade Point (GP): Refers to a numerical weightage allotted to each letter grade on a 10-point scale against a preconceived range of percentage of marks secured by students in a course as shown in Table 2.

Table 2, Letter Grade and corresponding Grade Points on a typical 10 - Point scale

Letter Grade	Letter Grade and corresponding Grade Points on a typical 10 - Point scale
	D	A+	A	B+	B	C	P	F
Grade Point	10	9	8	7	6	5	4	0
% of Marks secured	90-100	80-89	70-79	60-69	55-59	50-54	40-49	0-39

16. Passing Standards: Refers to passing a Course only when GP is greater than or equal to 04.

17. Credit Point: This is the product of GP and number of credits for a Course i.e.,

18. Semester Grade Point Average (SGPA): Refers to the measure of a student's academic performance in a semester. It is the weighted average or weighted mean of the grade points obtained by a student in the various courses of any semester. It results in a number that lies between 0 and 10.

19. Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA): This is a measure of the cumulative performance of a student of all semesters and is computed from the 2nd semester onwards. It is a measure of the overall cumulative academic performance of a student over the entire span of the academic program. CGPA is not an arithmetic mean but weighted mean. It is also a number that lies between 0 and 10.

20. Grade Card: Refers to the certificate showing the grades earned by a student. A grade card shall be issued to all the registered students after every semester-end examination. The grade card shall have the Program details (Course code, title, number of credits, grades secured, number of attempts, and alternate course taken instead of successive failure after 4 attempts) along with the SGPA of that semester and CGPA (except for the first semester) earned till that semester.

- 21. Academic Bank of Credits (ABC): The Academic Bank of Credits (ABC), is a nation multi-level facility which will promote the flexibility of the curriculum framework and Interdisciplinary/multidisciplinary academic mobility of students across the HEIs in the country with appropriate "credit transfer" mechanism.
- 22. Multiple Entry Multiple Exit: The multiple entries and exit points in the academic programs offered at Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) would remove rigid boundaries and create new possibilities for students. There are occasions when learners have to give up their education mid-way for various reasons. To facilitate flexible learning within the stipulated period (eight years for regular students and 06 years for lateral entry students), multiple exit and entry options are given to the needy students. The student can exit from the program only at the end of the even semester/s (2nd, 4th, and 6th semester) and the entry option is provided to the students at the beginning of the odd semester/s (3rd, 5th and 7th semester).
- 23. University: Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU), Belagavi.

Letter Grade and corresponding Grade Points on a typical 10 - Point Scale
Letter Grade	D	A+	A	B+	B	C	P	F
Grade Point	10	9	8	7	6	5	4	0
